WEST Australian tycoon Alan Bond, whom a lot of knowledgeable sources tip is a dark horse for the ASF Presidency when Sir Arthur George retires in July is promoting a Super Six indoor tournament this month in Brisbane.

The tournament, to be played over three nights at the Brisbane Entertainment Centre will feature three English teams, Arsenal, Manchester City and Nottingham Forest pitting their skills against Queensland, New South Wales and Victoria for prizemoney totalling $55,000.

The three English clubs are bringing powerful squads, including such well-known identities as Nigel Clough, John Lukic and Steve Williams.

The Arsenal squad, in fact is virtually the same one that played against Luton in the Littlewoods Cup-Final two weeks ago.

The three States will be picking their strongest possible squads, with the blessing of the ASF and the NSL.

For the full story, turn to page 7.

● MORWELL Falcons' Ian Stirton. He had an interesting afternoon, coming on as a substitute, hitting the cross-bar, scoring the equaliser, and being sent off, all in 17 minutes.

IT was another black weekend for State League soccer as referees went on another red card rampage, with five more players heading for an early shower.

That brings the total so far to 24 send-offs in first team games alone.

If this rate is maintained, it means that 80 players will miss the Rothmans Medal dinner and the eventual Medal winner will probably be some meek and mild midfielder who never tackled another player and who remembered to shake the referee by the hand at the end of the game, saying as he did so, "good game, ref."

Amongst the leading players who have already paid the supreme penalty are previous medal winners like Paul Harris and Bobby McGuinness, not to mention last year's top goalscorer, Dennis Morovic, Ricky Lipiarski, who has never been sent off before and newcomer Willie Raynes, sent off in his third game here.

If this is an attempt to 'clean up' the game and it doesn't work, what's 'next... bring back the rope?

State League coaches are sick and tired of this season's refereeing standards, but they daren't complain because they incur a heavy fine if they do, and for that reason they won't be quoted.

But as one well-known coach put it to me, "if one of these clowns had been in charge of that game between Napoli and Milan last Sunday night, he'd have sent about five off... and that was while they were still warming-up!"

Now spectators, players, committeemen and coaches and everyone else concerned about the game are walking around saying "where the hell are we going". It's a good question, I wish someone would give us the answer.

OUT OF AFRICA

OR RUDI THE GREAT WHITE HUNTER

RUDI Gutendorf is in the back of a truck full of Botswana teenagers who are being taken into the jungle to be circumcised.

On the floor of the truck is a calf lying very still because its achilles tendons have been severed with a bush knife.

A large pot containing a vile-smelling concoction also is being transported.

Rudi feels ill.

In charge of the group is a large, fearsome man known as "Chief".

He is a member of the national team Gutendorf has been employed to assemble for an anniversary match against Zambia.

Gutendorf has tried unsuccessfully to persuade Chief to give up his role as the ceremonial circumciser, arguing it is a barbaric and dangerous practice.

But even a threat of expulsion from the national squad has failed to have the desired effect.

Instead, Chief has invited Gutendorf to come and watch a circumcision ceremony.

Ever fascinated by the unknown — he was on a leopard hunt during which a New Zealander's shoulder was ripped to the bone by the talons of a wounded animal a few days earlier — Gutendorf has agreed to come along.

At their destination in the jungle, the adolescents hack off the head of the calf and suspend the twitching torso over the vile-smelling concoction, so it turns red with blood. The pot is then handed around.

It comes to Rudi Gutendorf.

By LAURIE SCHWAB of The Age

His stomach turns but he is afraid of the consequences if he does not drink.

As the liquid slides down his throat, it has an almost immediate effect.

He realises it contains a drug.

His eyes dilate, his attention is riveted on the Chief's chants.

He almost is in a trance, yet fully aware of what is happening around him.

One by one, the teenagers are led to Chief and his knife.

One by one they return, screaming and bleeding.

Rudi Gutendorf approaches for a closer look. He sees the flashing of the butcher's knife, the crude and deep incision.

On the way back one of the boys bleeds to death.

Just another day in the life of Rudi Gutendorf, former national coach of Australia.

It is detailed in his book "I am a Colourful Dog", released in West Germany and so far not available in the English language. I have only read the first few chapters so far but it is an engrossing tale, to be sure.

On arrival in Botswana, he is presented with a squad of 45 would-be players who are to be whittled down into a final 11 that will meet Zambia in a match of enormous importance to the governments as well as the people of both countries.

Shattered hopefuls wail in anguish as Gutendorf tells them that they have been omitted in the process of elimination.

The big day dawns.

Before the match he orders his charges to form a circle in the dressing room and hold hands to strengthen the bond between them.

An overpowering urge seizes him and he screams: "You are ferocious leopards. Go out and F... those Zambian rabbits."

Only the woodwork and an extremely generous referee prevent Botswana from being swamped in the first few minutes of play.

Zambians are tripped and pushed to the ground yet the referee fails to award penalties.

With the entire Botswana team in defence, the centre half inadvertently smashes the ball into his own net to put Zambia ahead.

A large, colorfully clad medicine man leads the Botswana fans into a frenzy of indignant chanting.

A government minister pushes a substitute off the bench and sits down next to Gutendorf to help yell instructions.

At half time Gutendorf plumps for all-out attack.

Botswanans, he tells his players, are like lions.

They must go for the kill.

And they do, resulting in one of them heading a cross into the net for the equaliser.

The Zambians throw everything forward, the referee continues to overlook every Botswana transgression and the local populace celebrates until late into the night.

It is as if they have won the World Cup.

Gutendorf's bonus from the government is official permission to go out and shoot one leopard and one elephant.

He declines, saying he has trouble even threatening harm to a rabbit.

Instead, he and his local lover, Khani, fly off into deeper Africa to marvel as the countryside and the wildlife and to look up a German acquaintance who is a personal friend of Idi Amin's.

"It's much more healthy to be friendly with him than unfriendly," the German tells Gutendorf.

I can't wait to read the rest.

The book contains a few photos of his time in Australia — including scenes of triumph after winning the Oceania Cup in Noumea and beating the New York Cosmos in Sydney — but there is no chapter about his Australian experience.

Compared with Botswana, Japan, Chile, Peru, Tibet, Germany, Switzerland, etc. etc., it was probably too boring.

Quiet Achiever

Roy McLaren is one of those soccer coaches who chases publicity with all the eagerness of a sloth. When it comes to being "laid back" he is almost underground. But it is impossible to find any shade from the spotlight these days.

As coach of Northcote City, he has become a figure of wonder. What kind of man can take a club which spent most of last season on its back being counted out and turn it into a knock-out specialist? Obviously a man who knows his job very well indeed.

Northcote moved to the top of the State League last weekend with a 2-0 win over one of his hottest challengers for the championship, Croydon City.

McLaren merely shrugs and refers to the transformation with a quiet: "We are doing pretty well."

Having dropped the understatement of the season so far, it is typical that he refuses to make any kind of statement which he and his players might not be able to live up to as the season progresses.

"It's far too early to start talking about winning championships. We just want to go along playing as well as we are and letting the future take care of itself," he said.

"But I have to admit that I am very happy with the way things are going at the moment."

"I think the addition of Martin Woodall and Carl Gilder have had a lot to do with our success. Apart from being good players with a professional attitude, they are very good clubmen."

"Their influence rubs off on the youngsters and long may it continue. The supporters are jumping these days because they just aren't accustomed to this kind of thing."

"But it's good to be part of it. There is nothing more in enjoyable soccer than winning."

It goes without saying that McLaren's success has not gone unnoticed, especially with those clubs which are likely to be looking for a new coach within the next few weeks.

Preston Makedonia and Brunswick Juventus could be in that category and if they ever do get around to looking for a permanent replacements for Ernie Merrick and Len McKendry, you can bet

Croatia demolishes
OlympicSYDNEY CROATIA

BRILLIANT striker Manis Lamond continued his amazing goal-scoring spree on the way to helping Sydney Croatia demolish Sydney Olympic in a West End National Soccer League match at the Croatian Sports Centre.

Lamond and fellow frontrunner Robbie Slater were in devastating form as they spearheaded Croatia to an impressive 3-0 win.

Although it had excuses, Olympic simply had no answer to a Croatian team which is getting better with every game.

Olympic had tiny midfielder Tom Pontidas sent off in the 57th minute after he received his second yellow card.

It was also forced to carry goalkeeper Clint Gosling for most of the match after he had been injured midway through the first half.

But even before those problems arose it was obvious Olympic was in for a tough day.

With Lamond and Slater exploiting their speed down the flanks the Olympic defence did not know which way to turn.

That they managed to survive the first half without conceding a goal came as a result of good fortune rather than good management.

But it did not take Croatia long to go ahead in the second half.

Big defender Alan Hunter scored from the penalty spot in the 57th minute after Pontidas handled the ball in his own area.

Pontidas was shown the red card by referee Rob Davies who later came under fire from Olympic coach Eddie Thomson.

A minute after that goal Croatia scored again with Lamond calmly slotting home the ball after a Slater cross.

Lewis the lion
tamerBRISBANE LIONS 0
MELBOURNE CROATIA 1 (Lewis pen)

With this win in Brisbane Melbourne Croatia served notice that it will be a threat to other top five aspirants.

Coach Ian Wallace has been on record recently criticising the attitude of some of his players, but they did him proud in the heat of Brisbane, especially considering that they had weathered a difficult away match in Sydney only four days before.

Lions were never really in the game which at times seemed to have developed into a personal battle between speedy striker Paul Lewis and Lion's teenage goalkeeper Jason Kearton, who was brilliant.

Kearton foiled Lewis no fewer than five times after he had left the lumbering Lions defence for dead, but it was Lewis who had the last laugh.

Five minutes from the end, fellow striker Alan Scott sprinted past two defenders and laid back the ball for Lewis, who calmly turned his marker and slotted the ball neatly past Kearton.

That goal put Lewis level with Frank Farina at the top of the NSL goalscorers, but it was a vindication of Croatia's faith in him.

There were rumours early in the season when Croatia was going through a lean period and Lewis himself suffered a drought, that he was going to be replaced by an import, but now that is all behind him.

I AM an English football fan aged 20 and was wondering if you could help me find a pen pal who follows soccer in Australia and could keep up to date with whatever is happening.

In return I could do the same if they followed an English team.

I support Leeds United so if someone followed them I could keep them well informed.

Vedran Rozic was delighted with his team's performance.

"We should have won by a far greater margin but I am still happy with the result," he said.

"Things are now starting to work out for us and I believe we have one of the best teams in the competition."

"Slater and Lamond are playing exceptionally well and it is going to take a strong defence to hold them out."

Olympic will be in bother for its next match with Pontidas suspended and also midfielder Peter Raskopoulos, whose yellow card during the match means he has exceeded the disciplinary points system.

WOLLONGONG 1
(Hollifield 81st)

ST GEORGE jolted the premiership run of National League leader Wollongong City with a determined 2-1 win at St George stadium.

The loss, only the second in the first round for the South Coast side, slips them to second, one point behind new leader Marconi.

Wollongong players heatedly disputed both goals, which came after a scoreless first half.

Midfielder Vladi Torteviski one minute into the second half ran on to a pass on the right wing as the entire Wollongong defence appealed for off-side.

Torteviski crossed to Pedro Ricoy whose shot deflected from a defender to Craig Moffitt who hammered the ball into the net.

Referee John McConnell penalised Torteviski with a yellow card in the 60th minute and two minutes later Wollongong defender David Ratcliffe earned a similar card and gave away a free kick after a clash with the Saints' midfielder.

As the defence gathered, Andy Koczka took the free kick and blasted a 25m rocket into the back of the goal.

Wollongong pulled a goal back with seven minutes remaining from another free kick situation where Jeff Ainsworth slipped the ball to fullback Mike Hollifield for an acutely angled drive past keeper Mike Gibson.

PRESTON MAKEDONIA 1
(Stewart 25th)

PRESTON's four week unbeaten run under new player-coach Ron Campbell ended when South Melbourne came from behind to win 2-1 at Middle Park.

Campbell, who succeeded former coach Ernie Merrick, sacked when Preston was at the bottom of the ladder, had reason to feel confident when his team took the lead in the 25th minute with a goal by John Stewart.

But, at no stage could Preston match the speed and imagination of South Melbourne, which had most of the possession.

McLaren in the 25th minute.

South Melbourne fought back immediately but Traianides flew across the face of goal to block a header from Trimboli who then hit the post with a shot.

At the other end Campbell crossed to Stewart who headed against the crossbar and an attempt by Stuart Stevenson was blocked on the goal line by Steve Blair.

Blair switched from defence to attack for a header which hit the bar in the 40th minute and when Preston counter-attacked, McLaren made a one handed save to foil Campbell.

At half time South Melbourne coach Brian Garvey switched Fernandes to central defence, Bobby Russell to right back and David Healey from right back to midfield, resulting in a much more solid defence.

Blair again moved forward and it was his header two minutes after half time that put South Melbourne on level terms.

Six minutes later Trimboli had room to launch a shot from close range.

It bounced off George Petrov on the goal line and was turned into the net for an own goal by Preston sweeper Steve Jackson.

South Melbourne hit the woodwork yet again with a shot by Wright before Preston launched a valiant fight back following two substitutions which saw Mike McLennan and George Slifkas coming onto the field.

But it was South Melbourne which finished more strongly and in fact midfielder Steve Tasios should have scored when Trimboli had the ball at his feet five metres from goal.

when he first came to the club at the start of the season earned the points with his first half display that shut out Juventus when it looked capable of at least taking a point.

Farina makes Georgie Cross

SUNSHINE GEORGE CROSS 0
MARCONI 3
(Farina 14th, 87th, Nastevski 19th)

The George Cross players must be sick of the sight of Marconi's outfit, especially that fellow Frank Farina.

He's played against them twice now and scored six.

If you can remember that far back, it was in the opening game of the season, before Georgie's remarkable revival, that Marconi gave George Cross a fearful 6-0 hiding, with Farina helping himself to four.

In Georgie's favour it has to be said that it missed both Shaun

Parton and Les Carter who are suspended and other players carried injuries.

Robert Markovac had to be substituted at half-time and then the pillar of defence himself (in Shaun Parton's absence), John Waddell had to be substituted too.

But that's all part and parcel of the game if you want to be a top five contender, and maybe the message is that Georgie is lucky to be where it is with such a thin squad.

You could go on and on, but the bottom line is, as the chant says... Look at the scoreboard.

The campaign to get rid of Len McKendry eventually succeeded, but to what end?

The same team he left has lost twice since he went, and where are all those supporters we were told would come back after he had gone?

Only 950 of them turned up to see this supposed Italian derby game, on an absolutely beautiful day.

A lame excuse was proffered that it was too nice a day for soccer... what was that about summer soccer bringing back the crowds?

Super Six Indoor Soccer Comes to Aust.

AUSTRALIANS will see a new style of indoor soccer when the Super Six tournament is staged at the Brisbane Entertainment Centre from May 19 to 21.

This version is very popular in Britain and indeed, one of the touring teams, Nottingham Forest, is the 1987 British National Indoor champion.

Super 6 retains all the virtues of the outdoor game — but there are some differences.

As the name suggests, there are six players per side, although all the teams operate with squads of ten.

After watching Super 6 for only a short time you will appreciate why so many substitutes are required.

The perimeter boards and plexiglass keep the ball in play much more, and the close proximity of opponents significantly raises the pace so that players can hardly be expected to last the whole match.

The enclosed arena also enables the ball to be played above head height and so Super 6 resembles the outdoor game more closely than traditional five-a-side.

Offside has been dispensed with because of the shortened playing area.

But as long as a team remains at full strength, it must have one player in the opposition's half of the field within five seconds of the game being started or re-started.

This ensures that teams do not pack their own half to protect a lead and it stretches out over a greater area.

If an infringement occurs, the last player to stray across the half way line is sent to the sin bin.

The sin bin is another Super 6 innovation.

Discipline is just as essential as in the outdoor game, but punishment must be instant.

Suspension in a subsequent match is of no benefit to the team against whom the offence was committed.

Players are sent to the sin bin if they are guilty of committing a cautionable offence or are guilty of deliberately delaying the game.

The usual sin bin penalty is two minutes. The six-on-the-pitch and ten-in-the-squad-set-up is a manager's dream — or even nightmare.

When the team members are level, play is beautifully balanced.

But, as in ice hockey, as soon as somebody is in the sin bin, the shorthanded team has to try to withstand a power-play.

This is a continuous burst of sustained aggression when the full strength team tries to take advantage of its extra man.

The use of substitutes, except to replace sin bin offenders, is unlimited.

The shrewd manager has so many options.

Players can be on and off the field two or three times in the same match, and the ball does not even have to go out of play.

Goals can only be scored from the area between the goal lines and the red lines which are marked some ten yards into each half.

Clearances out of defence must not cross the area between the two red lines without either touching the floor or another player.

So, moves have to be built-up and constructive play is assured.

Corners are taken in Super 6 in the usual way, but there are no goal kicks.

Goalkeepers throw the ball out from within their own penalty areas. There are no throws-in either.

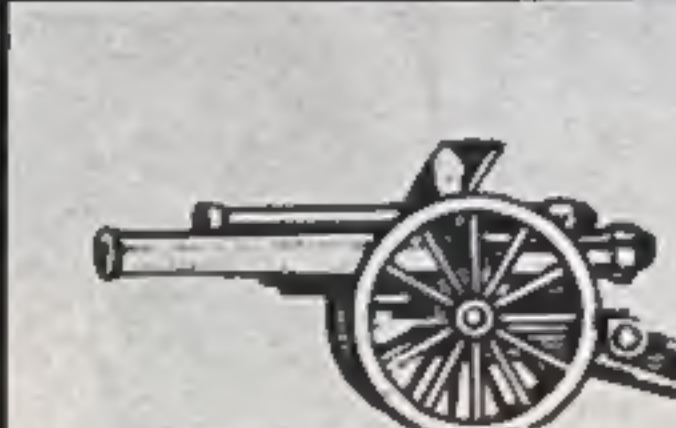

Instead, play is resumed with a place-kick from where the ball went out in front of the built-in goals are the goalkeepers' areas which are restricted to the defending goalkeepers only.

VICTORIA

Super Six Tournament

As we went to press, we were assured that Victoria was still interested in taking part in the tournament, and being a Victorian paper we were very anxious to learn the names of the Victorian squad.

But we ran into a wall of silence, well, not so much silence as evasion.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, try as we may, we couldn't get anyone to speak, so regrettably, that's where we had to leave it.

NORTHCOTE CITY TAKES OVER

ST ALBANS FIRING • WATCH CAULFIELD

QUITE apart from the engrossing tussle for the lead in the championship race, there is another, almost as fascinating, battle going on for personal supremacy between two fine players, Ivan Duzel of St Albans and Martin Woodall of Northcote City.

Duzel leads Woodall by two votes in the Ansett award, and they are level on five each on the goal-scoring ladder, one behind Duzel's teammate, Ivan Kelic.

It's a long time since we had two such good all-rounders in the State League and it would be quite a feat if one topped both contests.

Woodall's team, Northcote City, travels to Morwell for a Saturday battle full of confidence after knocking over Croydon last week.

Northcote coach Roy McLaren gave this paper a lot of the credit for that win.

He says that Miron Bleiberg's forecast that Northcote would be relegated provided a great spur, and just in case anyone had missed it, he pinned the offending article upon the dressing-room wall.

It had the desired effect, and after the victory the Northcote boys left the dressing-room door open so that the Croydon lads could savour the victory song.

But Bleiberg is unperturbed, "it's a long season," he says, "and some of my forecasts could come true. "Wait till the weather changes," he added ominously.

McLaren is a very down to earth character and he knows the season is not yet over by a long chalk, and he also appreciates that Saturday's game is a danger one.

Morwell has climbed out of Reilly's cellar and is starting to look more like the outfit we expected, and it wouldn't surprise greatly if Northcote had to surrender its unbeaten record.

Heidelberg coach Terry Hennessy isn't one to make excuses, he says Caulfield knocked his team off the top perch because they were better on the day.

Caulfield could carry on its improvement on Saturday when it meets Maribyrnong at Princes Park.

Caulfield disappointed somewhat early in the season, but injuries to key players like Michael Hamakiotis, Andy Theoharous and Nick Deligiannis had a lot to do with that.

State League Preview By BRIAN JAMES

But Caulfield won't be out of the four for much longer and once it gets there, it'll be in to stay.

The remaining Saturday match is at Bulleen, where Box Hill is the visitor.

Coach Jimmy Rooney remains optimistic and insists that his team won't go defensive, but his problem is pretty plain to see, three goals in nine games won't lift his team to safety, tenth place is the minimum requirement this season and at times it must resemble climbing Everest to Jimmy.

To make matters worse, he'll have to manage on Saturday without one of his key players, Robert Krajacic, who got his marching orders last week.

So Bulleen has a mountain to climb and if it gets away with a point it will be a big effort.

Another club that can't seem to get away from the cellar is Oakleigh, and its game last Saturday was yet another illustration of how nothing goes right when you are down.

Oakleigh should have been three goals up before Springvale had shifted into top gear, with Jimmy Ross hitting the crossbar into the bargain, but the ball just wouldn't go in.

Then Oakleigh gave away a penalty that even Gus MacLeod, Vale's coach, thought was a trifle generous and that was another game lost.

Oakleigh has had to struggle all this time, of course, without its most skilful player, Ally Dick, who played half a game against Springvale but was obviously still far from fit.

Ally told me that he isn't confident yet about his knee, which isn't good news.

Oakleigh's problems could be even more compounded, if that is possible, after Sunday's visit to Thomastown.

Thomastown looks too strong for Oakleigh at this stage, at least.

Of course, before the Oakleigh game, Springvale's position was just as precarious as was Oakleigh's, but it was a very satisfactory outcome for McLeod, because the situation at the bottom is so tight that Springvale was able to hurdle five clubs in a single bound.

It was satisfactory in another sense too, because all three of its new players looked good.

Kevin Reilly from Prahran looked steady at the back, and Steven Keenan and Mike Livingstone shone, in fact I thought Keenan was the best player on the ground.

Once he finds his feet in the State League he'll be a big force, I'm sure.

He'll need to find his feet quickly enough anyway, because Springvale has a very tough assignment this Sunday facing the redoubtable St Albans.

St Albans has a fearsome attack that seems to go on scoring goals at will. I have an idea that Dennis Boland is going to be busier than a one-armed paper-hanger facing Popovski, Kelic and Duzel.

But before I leave the subject of last week's game at Oakleigh, I must mention that I had a disturbing experience there.

I was fronted by a fellow who didn't bother to introduce himself, but who apparently knew me and he launched into a diatribe on my shortcomings over referees' problems.

I made a few feeble protestations, but he waved those aside and then marched off well satisfied no doubt that another struggling scribbler had been put in his place.

How smug and self satisfied these people appear.

Of course I didn't realise at the time that he was there because the referee for that vital relegation struggle was aspiring to become Grade 1 and was being inspected.

No wonder he looked all sweaty-palmed and intense, and no wonder he sent off two players who were merely playing the game hard.

He probably got his Grade 1 too, but I didn't fancy his chances.

Another club that is in nearly as much strife as Oakleigh is Fawkner and it faces a tough assignment on Sunday against Heidelberg.

Heidelberg will not only be bouncing back after defeat, it will be reinforced by the return of Willie Raynes, and will no doubt introduce recently-arrived Andy O'Dell for his first full game.

O'Dell had a twenty-five minute spell last week against Caulfield and people who saw him said he looked the goods.

Intriguingly enough, Fawkner is anxious to buy Scott Fraser, but will the Bergers let him go before the two meet?

Another club bouncing back after defeat is Croydon City and it meets Ringwood City in the local derby which I don't think will cause Bleiberg's men any sleepless nights.

Croydon is one club that I thought would have been interested in Fraser, who is a useful and mobile midfielder, but apparently it is a striker that Bleiberg is seeking, which is very interesting.

In another local derby on Sunday, Green Gully looks too strong for Western Suburbs which is already starting to wear that doomed look.

This amazing Indian summer we are experiencing at the moment can't possibly last much longer, and Gully is one of the stronger more experienced sides that will go well in the heavier going.

The weekend games, with probably winners in capitals:

SATURDAY: CAULFIELD CITY v Maribyrnong at Princes Park, Bulleen v BOX HILL at Veneto Club, MORWELL FALCONS v Northcote City at North Crinigan.
SUNDAY: Western Suburbs v GREEN GULLY at Ralph Reserve, Fawkner v HEIDELBERG at Smith Reserve, CROYDON CITY v Ringwood City at Town Park, THOMASTOWN v Oakleigh at Partridge Reserve, Springvale City v ST ALBANS at Ross Reserve.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE ROUND-UP

It is a truism that reputations count for nothing in Cup competition, and this round was no exception.

The biggest upsets were Glenroy Doka's 1-2 loss to Second Division Fibre-makers and fellow First Division Apollo United's demise at the hands of Third Division Bowater in a cliffhanger result finally decided 5-4 on "penalties".

Fourth Division newcomers Westall PIPA accounted for the highly fancied and more experienced Ferris United 2-0, while Sunbury, who have been consistently undermanned in their League matches, found a touch of their old form and knocked over the odds-on

HOW ARE THE MIGHTY FALLEN

Division Apollo United's demise at the hands of Third Division Bowater in a cliffhanger result finally decided 5-4 on "penalties".

Fourth Division newcomers Westall PIPA accounted for the highly fancied and more experienced Ferris United 2-0, while Sunbury, who have been consistently undermanned in their League matches, found a touch of their old form and knocked over the odds-on favourites Keeley Kings 1-0.

Meanwhile Kings Park Heights, who have been struggling to find their feet in Division 2M, fought their experienced First Division opponents, Altona Ilinden, to the last gasp.

In what was described as a very interesting, fast and exciting match, Kings Park twice came from behind to keep their hopes alive. It was a tense encounter with both teams displaying a tremendous will to win, but for all of that played without spite.

Despite a first 45 minutes full of attack and counter-attack, neither team had troubled the scorers at the interval.

Ten minutes after the resumption, Ilinden went ahead when Mendo Tasevski latched on to a neat through ball, jinked his marker and the advancing goalkeeper put Ilinden into the lead.

It took 25 minutes for Kings Park to make up the deficit, when Mladen Nedelkovski picked up a loose ball on the edge of the Area and blasted home the equaliser. Full time came with the score still 1-1.

In the 8th minute of extra time, a neat build-up by Altona Ilinden released Lazo Lazarevski, who took advantage of an open goal to push Ilinden ahead once more. The game had moved into the 28th minute of extra time, and things were looking black for Kings Park Heights. But at this point a foul just outside the Area gave Dragan Trajkovski a chance to show his mettle.

His power-laden free kick swerved around the wall and buried the ball in the far corner netting. So it came down to kicks from the penalty spot.

Altona Ilinden missed. Kings Park shot was saved.

Tragically, nerves now finally got the better of Kings Park's sharpshooters. While Ilinden scored with their next three attempts, Kings Park missed their next two, and the game was all over.

It was a brave effort, in a match played under excellent conditions, and Mr Kadlecik firmly in control of proceedings.

Over at Sunbury, the locals brought back a couple of their stalwarts, who — despite the fact that they were carrying injuries — provided the stiffening that this young team needed.

In a very even match, with Ian Hutton in goal and David Saxton at centre-half repulsing every attack that Keeley Kings launched, the deadlock was not broken until the 70th minute.

A half-cleared ball and a half-open goal were all that Maurie Fera needed to put Sunbury one up.

This again was a match played in the best of spirit, and we understand that — after the match — luncheon festivities were enjoyed far more by Keeley Kings than was the result.

Dallas United were determined not to be awed by their First Division visitors. They were equally determined to give their supporters value for money, and did it so well that they were leading, 3-0 after 20 minutes.

A lone goal by Pat Pestori was Australian Airlines' only consolation, as Dallas United notched two more in the second half to run out 5-1 winners in what was a major upset.

For Dallas, Korculanin (3) and Dolic (2) were the scorers.

At the Bailey Reserve, Westall PIPA surprised the pundits, possibly the punts, and certainly the underdogs, in recording one of the other upset wins of the round.

Both goals for PIPA came in the first half, the first through a Billy Ferniniotis rocket and the second, tragically for Ferris, through an own goal when a desperate attempt at a headed clearance found their own netting.

While the rest of the game was a hard-fought affair with chances missed at either end, Ferris were unable to break through, and will not watch the rest of the Cup competition from the outside.

Even on an answering machine, there was no difficulty in detecting the poorly-suppressed glee in Ernie Howarth's voice as he announced the result of Bowater's downing of Apollo United.

With a score-line of 1-1 at full time, which was still 1-1 after extra time, the game was finally decided 5-4 on "penalties".

Unfortunately, we are unable to bring you details of this glorious victory, as no-one was answering on any Bowater phone number we knew.

You certainly had cause to celebrate, Ernie, and jolly good luck to you.

It was just as tough down at the Latin American Sporting Complex, where North Dandenong Sparrows also ran out winners 5-4 on "penalties".

Springvale Eagles were first to score, notching their goal in the first half.

It was not until the 88th minute that the Sparrows' Gilbert Hassing was able to square the encounter, when he cleverly chipped an advancing keeper.

At the end of extra time, the scores were still 1-1. After 5 kicks for each side had been taken from the penalty spot, the result was 4-4.

It was down to sudden death. The Eagles' first attempt was parried, but Sparrows made no mistake.

It was equally close at Port Melbourne, where Garden City and Oakleigh City were locked together 0-0 after 120 minutes of sweat and toil.

But it was Garden City who had the better of the "penalty" kicks, running out winners 4-3.

There was a double-header at Montrose, and although the scores were not as even as those we have mentioned, there was an interesting pattern

In the League Cup, Montrose defeated West Footscray Leion 3-0, but all three goals were scored in the space of 5 minutes, at the 71st, 73rd and 75th minutes.

Similarly in the Reserves Cup, where Montrose were hosts to Australian Airlines, the visitors knocked in 3 goals between the 34th and 39th minutes, and looked to be coasting. But midway through the second half a two-goal burst in 10 minutes brought Montrose back into contention. The Airlines, however, were able to hold on for a well deserved win.

Although soundly beaten in the end, Taxation United, Creswick Town and Preston Tramways deserved mention for courage and invention.

Preston Tramways came up against ten Middle Park. Everyone expecting a 10-0 or a 12-0 score line, but the Tramways had other ideas, and fought heroically.

Their goalkeeper in particular performed miracles; his anticipation and agility first amazing, and then frustrating, his opponents.

Of the six Fourth Division sides, four remain to fight another day. Salesian College Old Boys joined Westall PIPA in winning through the Qualifying Round when they downed Creswick Town 2-0, while RAAF College and Embassy Taxis progressed by virtue of a bye.

There were no surprises in the Reserves Cup, with all results going as expected, except that Middle Park's 7-1 downing of Windsor and Hampton Park United's thrashing of Berwick United both surprised — not by the results — but by magnitude of their winning margin.

VICTORIAN SOCCER Division One

Dandenong Soccer Club
Essendon 1, Dandenong 3
HOME TEAM: Dave Wilson 3 (incl. 2 pens), Reserves Ess 0, Dandy 1, Rawlings.

VISITORS: C. Kovac, A. Taylor, S. Lawson, G. Porter, G. Johnson, G. Bannan, K. Swinscot, A. McCormick, G. McPhee, D. White, D. Wilson, Gardiner, J. Symonds.

DANDENONG started strongly and scored first after 8 minutes when McPhee bat the offside trap and got pulled down for a penalty.

The 2nd goal came when McCormick with little room and with several players closing, deftly chipped forward to Wilson to break clear.

As he was bearing in on the keeper, he was hacked to the ground for another penalty.

Wilson again took it and hammered it in the roof of the net.

2-0 after 25 minutes and then Dandy turned the champagne soccer on.

The 3rd goal was a masterpiece of one touch soccer.

Lawson to White, switch to Gardiner who drove across the box to Wilson to lash home a fitting goal to seal his hat-trick.

With 5 minutes remaining, Dandy conceded a soft goal following a poor effort at clearing by Gardiner.

Pat Bannan had by this time regained his gleaming smile and several hotels between Essendon and Siskas.

Shortly after a through ball by Fernandes set up Spicer for a certain goal which was thwarted by Siskas once again.

VICTORIAN LEAGUE Division Two

Doncaster v Clifton Hill
CLIFTON HILL: P. Siskas, E. Theoharidis, C. Hronis, N. Tyrikos, M. Lorenzi, B. Papagorgio, T. Tshicinzis, M. Stevanovic, T. Patsakos, N. Patsakos, T. Vagias, A. Flippis, E. Kastoris.

DONCASTER: H. Graham, J. Pusovski, P. Brennan, N. Skinner, M. Sowards, G. Malliaros, R. Tolmie, G. Talia, J. Twine, P. Spicer, N. Fernandes, R. Nichidis, A. Alford.

DONCASTER started the game against Clifton Hill with all the advantages, playing at home on an ideal pitch, undefeated in the league without conceding a goal.

What Rovers failed to take into contention was the opportunistic skills of Patsakos who made Rovers pay for their mistakes with a hat-trick.

Eleven minutes into the game Patsakos timed a corner perfectly to out-jump the Doncaster defence and head the ball out of reach of the Rovers keeper.

Immediately Rovers fought back gaining a free kick on the edge of the Clifton penalty box, which was saved by Siskas.

The first half climaxed with Clifton Hill failing to capitalise on its opportunities with misses by Lozenzi and Patsakos.

The second half started with Rovers pushing for an equaliser which nearly came in the 50th minute with a brilliant turn and shot by Malliaros and an equally brilliant save by Siskas.

In the 62nd minute Rovers were reduced to 10 men when Spicer received his marching orders from the referee.

Clifton Hill took advantage of Doncaster's weakened position and seized on a poor Rovers pass to score their second goal through Patsakos.

Soon after Stenovic brought down Nicolidis on his way to goal and was sent off for the offence. Rovers renewed their pressure winning three corners in succession, but pushing up brought its penalties when Lorenzi dispossessed a Rovers defender and laid on an easy goal for Patsakos with only Sowards at home in the Doncaster goal.

In the reserve game Rovers continued their winning way with three goals to Clifton Hills' one.

DIVISION FOUR Karingal United 3, Boronia 1

Referee: Colin Williams, at Ballam Park, Frankston.

KARINGAL UNITED: T. Boundy, J. Miller, G. Dobinson, K. Towers, A. Wright, K. Moore, G. Barker, T. Desbois, M. Moore, B. Langford, K. Burroughs. Coach: N. Bevis. Club Linesman: J. Rowe.

BORONIA: S. Robins, G. Hobson, Dino Milosevic (off 46 inj.), C. Laughdon, G. Amoretti (sent off), I. Williamson (caution & sent off), C. Whyte, G. Greenwald (off 80, D. Fisher on), P. Strahan, G. Radcliffe, D. Tattersall, K. White (on 46). Coach: Ian Williamson. Club Linesman: Steve Bowker.

GROIN injuries to Boronia's keeper Stuart Robins, Gino Amoretti and Dino Milosevic with a windpipe injury to Chris Langdon marked a fiery clash with Karingal United.

Player-coach Ian Williamson got a yellow card then a red for complaining to referee Colin Williams.

After scoring just before half-time Amoretti was sent off for a silent gesture of defiance to the player who had fouled him earlier.

Boronia played valiantly for the last 27 minutes with only nine men and, despite going close to scoring several times, could not catch Karingal.

T. Desbois and M. Moore netted for Karingal at the 18th and 35th minute and the combatants retired for the break with the home side leading 2-1.

Just before full time M. Moore scored from a penalty awarded for what appeared to be the ball clipping a downstretched arm.

PROVISIONAL LEAGUE 30th April '88 Division 1 Result 3-3
Clayton, Central City

HOME TEAM: C. Szabo, A. D. Angelo, B. Potiris, P. Smith, M. Broxham, J. D. Angelo, M. Wells, S. Bastasin, R. Ruffolo, C. Riccioni, J. Calenda, R. Martino, S. Biondo.

VISITORS: Habbochel, Havek, Econaneh, Avad, Bakrd, Deham, Ecmouhans, Ecoubas, Elaxoubi, Habib, Malock, Nasra, Avad. WHY didn't we win this game that's what the Clayton supporters were saying after the game. Two-one up at half time with an early penalty and a header by Riccioni. It looked like Clayton had the game in the bag.

Credit must be given to Central City for their perseverance as they fought back to equalise early in the second half.

In the 73rd minute J. Calenda put Clayton back in the lead. However Central City fought back and equalised with a long shot from the 18 yard area.

Clayton still had chances to win but at full time had to settle for another draw.

Clayton coach Frank Ruffold was most unhappy with the result and for his team allowing Central City back into the game.

Best players: Clayton, C. Riccioni, B. Potiri, J. D. Angelo, Central City, F. Elaxoubi, K. Deham, M. Habib.

PROVISIONAL LEAGUE Division One

Diamond Valley United 4, Ballarat 2

HOME TEAM: Hamilton, Drapper, Love, Dodd, Litchfield, Kerr, Kelly, Foster, Coyle, Tucker, Dallas, McLean, Chadwick.

VISITORS: Donavan, Romein, McNeight, Armstrong, Colvin.

Well led by captain Alan Kerr and Frankie Dallas a mid week, signing from Regent, the United forwards saw plenty of service. But despite dominating the play all United had to show was a 1-0 lead at the interval.

The goal came after a fine run by Foster whose pass found Kelly who volleyed the ball home.

The second half began where the first left off with again United dominating the play.

The home team soon increased its lead when Coyle shot home from close in after some good work from Dallas.

Two nil down, Ballarat made a spirited comeback but this was soon halted when Kelly added his second and United's third with a fine effort from twenty yards. Soon after Kelly made a good run down the right and his cross was met firmly by Foster's head and the ball continued. Clayton supporters were
